AQA Baccalaureate Enrichment Diary

Innovative, interactive and flexible.

The AQA Enrichment Diary: designed to meet the needs of you and your students.

The Enrichment Diary is a comprehensive online tool that makes it easy for you to manage and monitor your students' enrichment activities.

The AQA Enrichment Diary:

- is flexible in design and can be adapted to suit the way in which you work
- is tailored to the enrichment provision unique to your centre
- allows students to take responsibility for recording their own involvement in enrichment activities
- enables you to monitor and guide the progress of your students online

The benefits are clear:

- easy and intuitive to use
- accessible any time, anywhere over the internet via a standard browser
- useable off line as well as online
- no additional resources needed

Benefits to students of the AQA Enrichment Diary:

Students can:

- self register and use on or off line
- access any time, anywhere, from school/college, home or from a mobile device
- send Enrichment Diary entries from their mobile phone as text, audio, video or photo
- post entries whenever it suits them
- receive online guidance from teachers
- keep a comprehensive record of their enrichment activities of which they can be proud

Flexibility

The Enrichment Diary allows you to create a list of enrichment activities that are unique to your centre. It is designed for flexible use to enable you to manage, record and monitor your students' involvement in enrichment activities in a way that best suits how you work. It is up to you and your students how often they make entries to the Enrichment Diary.

For guidance on enrichment activities, see the guidance notes at aqa.org.uk/bacc

Availability

Following a very successful trial, the Enrichment Diary has been available to approved AQA Bacc centres since January 2009.

Centre Support

Support is available from the AQA Exams Office support team on 0870 410 1036 email eos@aqa.org.uk.
