Read ITEM A below and answer the question that follows.

ITEM A

Social class differences in achievement can be seen at all levels of the education system, from pupils' performance in primary school to the likelihood of their going to university. Many sociologists believe differences in pupils' home backgrounds are the main cause of these class differences in achievement. For example, better-off middle-class parents may be more likely to adopt parenting practices that encourage intellectual development and to involve themselves more in their children's schooling.

However, other sociologists see factors within schools as more important. Some sociologists also argue that home background and school factors are often interlinked.

Applying material from ITEM A and your knowledge, evaluate the view that social class differences in educational achievement are mainly caused by differences in pupils' home backgrounds.

METHODS IN CONTEXT

0 6 Read ITEM B below and answer the question that follows.

ITEM B

Investigating educational underachievement among boys

Boys are more likely than girls to underachieve in school. This may be due to factors inside school. However, other factors may be responsible such as female-headed lone-parent families or absent fathers.

Some sociologists may use group interviews to study the causes of boys' underachievement. These are largely unstructured and allow the interviewer to build a relationship with his or her interviewees. This method also allows the interviewer to observe interactions within the group at first hand. However, there are many practical problems with group interviews and schools may wish to have a say in how the interviews are conducted or in the selection of interviewees.
