Read ITEM A below and answer the question that follows.

ITEM A

From a Marxist perspective, the role of the socialisation process is to make sure that people accept the beliefs and values of the dominant class. All agencies of socialisation play a part in promoting these beliefs and values.

However, some sociologists argue that socialisation benefits society as a whole.

Applying material from ITEM A and your knowledge, evaluate the Marxist view of the role of the socialisation process. [20 marks]

---	---

Read ITEM B below and answer the question that follows.

ITEM B

From a functionalist perspective, government policies and laws support families in performing their functions. For example, the provision of welfare services by the state.

However, from a New Right perspective, legislation such as changes to divorce laws have undermined the traditional role of the family.

Applying material from ITEM B and your knowledge, evaluate sociological views on the impact of government policies and laws on the role of the family. [20 marks]

TOPIC B3 HEALTH1 | 3*Define the term 'medicalisation'. [2 marks]*1 | 4*Using ONE example, briefly explain how individuals with mental illness may be stigmatised. [2 marks]*1 | 5*Outline THREE reasons for geographical differences in life expectancy across the United Kingdom. [6 marks]*1 | 6*Outline and explain TWO ways in which differences in accessing health care may explain ethnic differences in health chances. [10 marks]

1 7 Read ITEM C below and answer the question that follows.

ITEM C

Feminists argue that the medical profession and the biomedical model of health serve the interests of patriarchy. They argue that women's views and women's interests are often marginalised by modern medical practice.

However, some sociologists argue that modern medicine serves the interests of society as a whole.

Applying material from ITEM C and your knowledge, evaluate the view that modern medicine serves the interests of patriarchy.
[20 marks]
