Hartop was driving: a thin, angular man, starved-faced. He seemed to occupy almost all the seat, sprawling awkwardly; so that his wife and their daughter Alice sat squeezed up, the girl with her arms flat as though ironed against her side, her thin legs pressed tight together into the size of one. The Hartops’ faces seemed moulded in clay and in the light from the van-lamps were a flat swede-colour. Like the man, the two women were thin, with a screwed-up thinness that made them look both hard and frightened.

How does the writer use language here to describe the Hartop family? [8 marks]

You could include the writer’s choice of:
- words and phrases
- language features and techniques
- sentence forms.

You now need to think about the WHOLE of the source.

This text is from the beginning of a short story.

How has the writer structured the text to interest you as a reader? [8 marks]

You could write about:

• what the writer focuses your attention on at the beginning of the source

• how and why the writer changes this focus as the source develops

• any other structural features that interest you.

A student said, ‘This part of the story, where Alice is sent back along the road to find what has fallen from the roof and returns with the chrysanthemums, shows how hard and cruel Hartop is, so that all of our sympathy is with Alice.’

To what extent do you agree? [20 marks]

In your response, you could:

• consider whether Alice is treated cruelly by her father
• evaluate how the writer creates sympathy for Alice
• support your response with references to the text.
SECTION B: WRITING

You are advised to spend about 45 minutes on this section. Write in full sentences. You are reminded of the need to plan your answer. You should leave enough time to check your work at the end.

Your school or college is asking students to contribute some creative writing for its website.

EITHER

Describe a market place as suggested by this picture. A description of this picture is written on page 33.
The picture on page 32 shows a food market. The produce is displayed neatly and separately as potential customers walk by. There are vegetables in boxes, different cheeses on plates, fish in baskets, eggs in boxes and a variety of coloured fruit in trays. A large animal carcass hangs from a hook on the ceiling showing the ribs of the animal.

OR

Write a story with the title ‘Abandoned’.
